International Day of People with a Disability is celebrated around the world on 3 December. It's a time for people with a disability, their friends, families and carers to celebrate their abilities with the wider community. Over 150 events are being held in NSW throughout November and December 2008.

In the Central West a dozen arts focused events will be held under the banner 'Celebrate Ability' - from workshops in painting, sculpting and photography to exhibitions, markets and event a new award for professional and community artists with a disability.

These events are supported by the NSW government via Arts OutWest and Accessible Arts NSW.
